

September Volunteering Opportunity

Help us build a September Walks Collection and be part of shaping Australia's biggest health and wellbeing challenge. Map out your walk, test it out, and share it with us. Your route could be showcased on our website and enjoyed by the September community!

How it works: 3 simple steps

- 1 Map out a walking route in your area. Use mapping tools to plan your walk - for example, the Walks Near Me by Transport for NSW is a great way to map key landmarks around NSW, and a way to discover hidden gems!
- 2 Walk the planned route on your own or with your team, and remember to take photos!
- 3 Submit your walk to the September team at support@september.org.au, and remember to include:
 - Photos from the walk
 - A map of the route (use any tools you like)
 - Starting point, points of interest, finish point
 - Approximate time taken to complete the walk
 - The name of your organisation
 - Your feedback and impressions (e.g. What did you enjoy about this walk? Is it accessible?)

If your organisation uses a workplace giving platform, don't forget to log your time spent planning your route and walking as volunteering hours!

The best part

Your team is welcome to complete this volunteering opportunity at any time throughout September, whenever it best suits you. Simply choose a time that works for your team and get involved.

By sharing your walk, you'll help create an inclusive, practical collection of routes for the September community to enjoy all year round.
